

CONTENTS

|                                 |     |
|---------------------------------|-----|
| Acknowledgments                 | vii |
| Preface                         | ix  |
| Chapter One Introduction | 1   |

PART ONE:

Kinship and Family Structure

|                                                                                   |    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Chapter Two Hypotheses and the Problem of Explanation                      | 13 |
| Chapter Three Culture and Social Structure in the Caribbean                | 21 |
| Chapter Four The Matrifocal Family                                         | 39 |
| Chapter Five Hierarchy and the Dual Marriage System in West Indian Society | 59 |
| Chapter Six Family, Social Change, and Social Policy in the West Indies    | 81 |

PART TWO:

Conflict and Difference: Race, Culture, and Politics

|                                                                                                                                          |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Seven Plural Society Theory                                                                                               | 101 |
| Chapter Eight Caste and Social Status Among the Indians of Guyana(coauthored with Chandra Jayawardena)                        | 111 |
| Chapter Nine Race and Class in the Post-Emancipation Caribbean                                                                    | 143 |
| Chapter Ten Living in the Gun Mouth: Race, Class, and Political Violence in Guyana                                                | 165 |
| Chapter Eleven On the Disutility of the Notion of "Ethnic Group"for Understanding Status Struggles in the Modern World | 185 |
| Notes                                                                                                                                    | 203 |
| References                                                                                                                               | 211 |
| Index                                                                                                                                    | 227 |