

CONTENTS

List of Figures xi

Acknowledgments xiii

Prologue 1

PART ONE / VISIONS OF THE PAST SIX HISTORIES IN SEARCH OF A TRADITION

- 1 Disciplines and Their Stories 7
 - Fragments and Coherences* 7
 - The Role of Narratives in Systems of Action* 9
 - Reconstructing Narratives and Lives* 12
- 2 Positivist and Pluralist Narratives 13
 - The Comtean Mythos* 13
 - The Park and Burgess Story* 16
 - Positivist Accounts from the 1960s* 18
 - Pluralist Narratives: The Prototype* 22
 - Later Pluralist Narratives* 26
- 3 Synthetic Narratives 35
 - Converging Positivisms* 36
 - Parsons on Weber* 42
 - The Parsonian Mythos* 46
 - Later Synthetic Narratives* 48
- 4 Humanist and Contextualist Narratives 59
 - The Derailment of "Progressive Science" in the 1960s* 59
 - The Search for Meaning in the Classics* 61
 - The Search for Meaning in the Milieu* 69
- 5 The Changing Need for Narratives 83
 - The Problematic Status of the Classics* 83
 - Reading Durkheim* 87
 - A History of Histories* 92
 - Toward a Dialogical Narrative* 96

PART TWO / VISIONS OF THE FUTURE
SEVEN TRADITIONS IN SEARCH OF A GOOD SOCIETY

- 6 The Hellenic Tradition 105
 - Praxis and Theoria* 106
 - Nature and Morality* 110
 - The Aristotelian Vision* 115
- 7 The British Tradition 121
 - The Hobbesian Assault on Aristotle* 121
 - The Loyal Opposition: British Critics of Hobbes* 128
 - From Utilitarian Philosophy to Social Science* 138
 - The British Legacy* 149
- 8 The French Tradition 152
 - Montesquieu and Rousseau* 152
 - French Critics of Rousseau* 156
 - Societal Essentialism* 160
 - The French Discipline* 167
 - A Tale of Two Traditions* 173
- 9 The German Tradition 181
 - Kant's Triple Revolution* 181
 - Herder's Romantic Revolution* 184
 - From Kant to Hegel* 187
 - . . . and Back to Kant* 192
 - Configuring the German Tradition* 194
 - Moral Crises and Sociological Foundations* 203
- 10 The Marxian Tradition 212
 - Marx's Cross-national Itinerary* 212
 - The Marxian Synthesis* 219
 - The Fusion of Theory and Praxis* 223
 - Some Contradictions of Marxism* 224
- 11 The Italian Tradition 231
 - From Rome to Risorgimento* 231
 - Celebrations of Elites* 235
 - Marx in Italy* 241
 - An Italian Paradox* 249
- 12 The American Tradition 251
 - From Kant to Peirce* 252
 - From Hegel to Dewey and Mead* 256
 - Pragmatism and American Sociology* 260

PART THREE / VISIONS OF THE PRESENT
SOCIAL SCIENCE IN CRISIS OR TRANSFORMATION?

- 13 Forming and Transforming a Discipline 271
Departures from Aristotle 272
From National Traditions to a Universal Discipline 276
The Fragmentation of Current Sociology 279
- 14 Diagnoses of Our Time 284
A Sense of Unease 284
The Assault on Disciplinary Boundaries 290
The Collapse of Old Narratives 294
Beyond Postmodernism 296
- 15 On the Heritage of Sociology 298
An Evolutionary Challenge 299
The Legacy of the Quest 300
The Problem of Modernity 306
- 16 In Quest of a Secular Ethic 317
Theory and Practice Revisited 317
A Dialogical Approach to the Quest 323
The Uses and Ethics of Dialogue 324

Epilogue

Dialogue as an Antidote to Fragmentation? 327

Appendix A

Selected Dates in the History of Western Social Thought 332

Appendix B

Graphic Depictions of the Six Types of Narrative 334

Appendix C

Basic Postulates of the Seven Traditions 335

References 337

Index 355

LIST OF FIGURES

- 1 Martindale's Typological Schema 28
- 2 Martindale's Typology of the Sociological Theories 29
- 3 Gouldner's Historical Model of the Sociological Tradition 75
- 4 Conceptions of the Sociological Tradition 101
- 5 Aristotle's Organization of the Sciences 111
- 6 Links in the British Tradition 131
- 7 Links in the French Tradition 161
- 8 Comte's Theory of Knowledge 164
- 9 Interactions between British and French Authors 174
- 10 Links in the German Tradition 196
- 11 Marx's Journey across the Three Traditions 220
- 12 Links in the Italian Tradition 246
- 13 Links in the American Tradition 264
- 14 Major Dialogical Traditions in the Heritage of Sociology 280
- 15 Modes of Pursuing Synthesis of Theoretical Oppositions 303–4