

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	3
FOREWORD	5
PREFACE	11
INTRODUCTION	21
PART I - AID: SELFLESS, SELFISH, BUT NOT RATIONAL	27
Chapter 1 - Somewhere between cynicism and idealism	31
1.1. Redistribution, investment or reward?	31
1.2. Empirical determining factors in the international allocation of aid	34
Chapter 2 - Where is the macro-economic impact?	41
2.1. Aid with no impact?	41
2.2. Arguments used in the face of disturbing findings	45
PART II - THE IMPRINT OF AID ON THE SAHEL	51
Chapter 3 - A part of the Sahel's recent history	55
3.1. The Sahel remains a special case	56
3.2. Considerable aid to match the region's characteristics	65
3.3. The imprint of many impacts	68
Chapter 4 - What aid can and cannot do	83
4.1. Effectiveness according to the activity	83
4.2. Do what we're good at, or first things first?	93
PART III - FAILINGS OF EXCESS	95
Chapter 5 - The Supply Corps can't cope	99
5.1. A widespread feeling of dissatisfaction and lassitude	100
5.2. Dysfunctions of aid practice	103
5.3. Wrong answers that delay aid reform	118
Chapter 6 - The Sahel does not meet the needs of aid	127
6.1. The standardization machine	128
6.2. Another way: experiment rather than anticipate	141
Chapter 7 - Supply is demand	151
7.1. Are donors on the supply side or the demand side?	151
7.2. The importance of counterpart contributions in the aid market	153

7.3.	Aid intermediaries: vectors of demand or relays of the aid supply?	158
7.4.	How can demand be given a greater part to play?	170

Chapter 8 - Two's company, thirty donors is a crowd 179

8.1.	The effectiveness race: no winner but one loser, the recipient country	180
8.2.	A narrow vision of aid results	188
8.3.	Less visibility for greater impact	201

Chapter 9 - Rescuing Sahelians rather than supporting them 211

9.1.	Aid takes over change	213
9.2.	Aid at the center of development	218
9.3.	Putting aid in its place	223

PART IV - THE RIGHT DISTANCE 235

Chapter 10 - Scenarios for the future: the Sahel as a user or a beneficiary of aid? 239

10.1.	The aid crisis	240
10.2.	The future of the Sahel in development cooperation terms	244
10.3.	Scenarios for future development cooperation in the Sahel	247

Chapter 11 - A necessary restraint 259

11.1.	Practical measures for reforming aid	261
11.2.	A continuous process of backing up reform	264
11.3.	Restraint and balance: a paradigm shift	268

APPENDICES

Appendix 1 - Statistical analysis of aid to the Sahel 275

1.1.	General trends	275
1.2.	Donors of aid to the Sahel	279
1.3.	Recipients of aid to the Sahel	283
1.4.	Aid by sector	287
1.5.	Aid to Sahelian countries from an international perspective	291
1.6.	Aid and the financing of development	295

Appendix 2 - Simulated amounts of aid to the Sahel in 2015 297

BIBLIOGRAPHY 303