

Table of contents

Executive summary	7
Introduction	9
Chapter 1. Government's role in national innovation systems: extent and justification	11
Introduction	11
Quantitative data on industrial R&D programmes	11
Justification for public industrial R&D	16
Chapter 2. Taxonomies/typologies of national programmes	25
Introduction	25
National programme objectives	25
Pre-competitive and near-market research	27
Types of intervention instruments	31
Targeting specific objectives	37
Spin-off/dual-use technology programmes	38
Intellectual property rights (IPR)	38
Types of public management	39
Promoting innovation systems and networking	40
National versus international programmes	41
Chapter 3. Evaluation methodologies and problems	43
Introduction	43
Objectives in evaluation	43
The "institutionalisation" of the evaluation process	45
Economic evaluation of national technology programmes	48
Other evaluation tools and practices	55
Chapter 4. Impacts – overview of empirical results	59
Introduction	59
Raising overall R&D efforts	61
Economic evaluation – market failure	63
Promotion of innovation	65
National innovation systems and diffusion	72
International programmes and issues	84

Conclusions	91
What is the role of government support in national innovation systems?	91
Evaluation issues with specific national programmes	92
Raising overall R&D efforts	94
Economic evaluation of specific programmes	94
Promotion of innovation	95
National innovation systems and diffusion	96
International issues	96
Notes	99
Bibliography	103

List of tables

1. Government budget appropriations for R&D socio-economic objectives . . .	12
2. Share of business enterprises R&D financed by government	13
3. Share of total government financed R&D performed by business enterprises	14
4. Share of government in enterprise R&D	15
5. Economic attributes of different goods	20
6. Canadian federal expenditure on R&D in the natural sciences and engineering, fiscal year 1986-87	26
7. Research objectives	28
8. The Techno-Economic Network	30
9. The Techno-Economic Network as an evaluation tool	31
10. Government policy instruments used to support industrial R&D: 1985-86 . .	33
11. Economic evaluation experience with the BRITE programme	45
12. BETA classification of effects	52
13. BETA/EURAM programmes: ratio of effects to EC funding	53
14. Indirect effects of space programmes	53
15. Pros and cons of alternative policies	60
16. Percentage increase in social value over the non-subsidised activities	64
17. Linkages between evaluation criteria and technology transfer strategies	66
18. Examples of support programmes for transferring technology resources to SMEs in various OECD countries, 1986-89	79
19. Technology-specific funding and R&D personnel grants in Germany	83