

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	x
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	1
 Part I. Studies in Democratic Development: Former USSR
1. Russia and the Regions: The Uses of Ambiguity Elizabeth Teague	13
2. City Government in Russia Adrian Campbell	37
3. Political and Economic Issues in the Re-creation of Lithuanian Local Government Artashes Gazaryan and Max Jeleniewsk	57
4. Local Government and the Centre in Romania and Moldova Adrian Campbell	73
 Part II. Studies in Democratic Development: East-Central Europe
5. Hungary: Into the Second Reform Cycle Kenneth Davey	115
6. Polish Local Government: Whither the Second Stage of Reforms? Anna Cielecka and John Gibson	129
7. Citizens' Committees in the Process of Formation of Local Power: A Polish Case Study Andrzej Bukowski	145

8.	Českij Krumlov: Housing Policy, Privatization and Local Development Daniel Hanšpach and Zdenka Vajdová	163
 Part III. Local Power and Economic Change
9.	Economic Change and the Russian Provinces Philip Hanson	179
10.	The Siberian and Far Eastern Challenge to Centre-Periphery Relations in Russia: A Comparison between Altaiskii and Primorskii Kraja Peter Kirkow	217
11.	Estonia: Radical Economic Reform and the Russian Enclaves Philip Hanson	261
 Part IV. Conclusions
12.	Decentralization and Change in Post-Communist Countries John Gibson and Philip Hanson	303
Index		315

Figures

3.1	Administrative-territorial units of local self-government in Lithuania in 1990–1994	59
3.2	Local government structure 1995 –	66

Tables

1.1	The population of Russia's autonomous formations at the time of the 1989 Census	16
3.1	Budget of Klaipeda City in 1994	69
3.2	Percentage of tax the city receives from the total sum raised within its jurisdiction 1994	70
3.3	Population size of Lithuanian local self-government communities	71
6.A1	Regional and local government units in Poland	139
6.A2	Poland – Gminy budgets	141
9.1	Russia: real household income	188
9.2	Russian government budget balances and transfers, 1994–I+II	197
9.3	Money incomes, food prices and food purchasing power of average incomes Magadan and Ulyanovsk, 1993–94	200
9.4	Industrial and farm privatization for selected regions	203
9.5	Distribution of operational JVs in the top 10 regions for JV operation, 1989 and mid-1993	211
10.1	Physical and demographic features of the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya in comparison with Russia	221
10.2	Branch structure of industry	222
10.3	Economic indicators for the Altaiskii and Primorskii Kraya in comparison with Russia	223
10.4	Social indicators for the Altaiskii and Primorskii Kraya in comparison with Russia	224
10.5	Candidates and elected deputies of the AK regional parliament	232
10.6	Results of the Federation-wide election to the State Duma in the PK compared with Russia as a whole	240
10.7	Candidates and elected deputies to the Primorskii krai Parliament	244

Transformation from Below

10.8	Private farming in the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya in comparison with Russia	246
10.9	Main income sources of the consolidated budgets of the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya, 1992-3	247
10.10	Main spheres of expenditure of the consolidated budgets of the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya, 1992-3	249
10.11	Comparison of aggregated budgetary and extra-budgetary income and expenditure in the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya	251
10.12	Foreign trade activities of the Altaiskii and Primorskii kraya in comparison with Russia, 1993	252
10.13	New deputies to the Russian Parliament	255
11.1	Real GDP change, Russia and Estonia, 1989-94	261
11.2	Inflation, Russia and Estonia, 1991-4	268
11.3	Estonia: structural and relative price change, 1991-4	269
11.4	Estonia: foreign trade and payments, 1992-3	270
11.5	Estonia: trade-partner composition of exports, 1993	271
11.6	Estonia: selected demographic background information	275