

Table of contents

Preface	v
Acknowledgements	vi
Chapter 1 - Introduction	1
I. Globalization and a new context for regional development . .	2
1. Lean production	3
2. Small firms and lateral organization	3
II. Service systems, technical services and inter-firm cooperation	4
1. Service systems	4
2. Inter-firm cooperation	5
III. Regional and country case studies	6
IV. Emilia-Romagna: An inspiration for other regions	7
 Chapter 2 - Small firms, service centres, networks and cooperation in Valencia	 11
I. Introduction	11
II. IMPIVA	13
III. IMPIVA's inner network	13
1. IMPIVA as a coordinating agency	14
2. Business Innovation Centres (BICs)	17
3. The Science Park	18
4. The Technological Institutes	19
IV. Cooperation networks	37
V. Summary and conclusions	40
1. A successful strategy?	41
2. Some lessons learnt	43

Chapter 3 - Strengthening small firms through cooperation and technical services: The roles of the Steinbeis Foundation and the Landesgewerbeamt in Baden-Württemberg	45
I. Introduction	45
II. Baden-Württemberg's institutional support for small firms	46
III. The Steinbeis Foundation	49
1. Constitution	49
2. A decentralized organization	50
3. An intermediary institution between education and industry	52
4. Financing	54
5. Perceived success	55
6. Decentralization and industry responsiveness	57
IV. Gosheim Steinbeis Quality Assurance Centre	58
1. Financing	61
2. Perceived aids to success	62
3. Future activities	65
V. The Landesgewerbeamt	66
1. Promoting inter-firm cooperation	66
2. The Landesgewerbeamt and cooperation networks	68
3. Women's "Work Circles"	71
VI. Summary and conclusions	73
1. The Steinbeis Foundation	74
2. The Gosheim Transfer Centre	74
3. The Landesgewerbeamt	75
4. Broader factors	76

Chapter 4 - The Danish Technological Institute and the Danish Cooperation Network Programme	78
I. Introduction	78
II. The Danish Technological Institute	80
1. Activities	80
2. Organization	81
3. The DTI and small firms	83

III. The Danish Cooperation Network Programme	84
1. History of and motivations for the programme	85
2. Forms of cooperation	86
3. The role of the National Agency for Industry and Trade . .	87
4. Some specific features of the programme helping or hindering success	89
5. Cooperation networks: two case studies	95
6. Has the Danish Cooperation Network Programme been successful?	101
IV. Other collective approaches, including Experience Exchange Groups	104
V. Summary and conclusions	107
1. The Danish Technological Institute	108
2. The Danish Cooperation Network Programme	109
 Chapter 5 - Final conclusions	 111
I. Japan	111
1. The kohsetsushi network	112
II. United States of America	113
III. In conclusion	116
1. Technical services	116
2. Inter-firm cooperation	121
3. Integration into a regional strategy	122
4. Final comment	122
 Bibliography	 125