

Contents

|                         |    |
|-------------------------|----|
| Acknowledgements | ix |
|-------------------------|----|

Part I

|                                                                                 |           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Introduction: Football, Policing and the Excitement of Mundane Sociology | 3  |
| The interpretive framework                                                      | 4         |
| Research methods                                                                | 7         |
| Overview of chapters                                                            | 14        |
| Chapter 1 Previous Research                                              | 18 |
| Football literature                                                             | 18        |
| Policing football                                                               | 32        |
| Studies by police officers                                                      | 39        |
| Summary                                                                         | 42        |
| Chapter 2 Government Reports and Football Legislation                    | 45 |
| Government reports                                                              | 45        |
| Football legislation in England and Wales                                       | 51        |
| Football-related legislation in Scotland                                        | 52        |
| Summary                                                                         | 53        |

Part II

|                                                                      |           |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Chapter 3 Uniformed Police Constables                         | 59 |
| Performance: front                                                   | 61        |
| Performance: dramatic realisation and idealisation                   | 64        |
| Performance: maintenance of expressive control                       | 69        |
| Typologies the police employ                                         | 71        |
| Rules of engagement                                                  | 74        |
| Teams                                                                | 82        |
| Regions                                                              | 86        |
| Summary                                                              | 93        |
| Chapter 4 Mobile Constables, Detectives and Football Spotters | 96 |
| Performance: Mobile Support Units                                    | 98        |

|                                                        |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Performance: detectives                                | 100        |
| Typologies used by the Mobile Support Units            | 102        |
| Typologies used by the detectives                      | 105        |
| Rules of engagement: Mobile Support Units              | 108        |
| Rules of engagement: detectives                        | 111        |
| Teams: MSUs and detectives                             | 114        |
| Regions: MSUs                                          | 120        |
| Regions: detectives                                    | 125        |
| Summary                                                | 128        |
| Chapter 5 Senior Officers                       | 132 |
| Performance                                            | 134        |
| Typologies                                             | 136        |
| Rules of engagement                                    | 139        |
| Teams                                                  | 143        |
| Regions                                                | 146        |
| Summary                                                | 150        |
| Chapter 6 Women Police Constables               | 154 |
| Previous research on WPCs                              | 154        |
| WPCs at football                                       | 160        |
| The underlying police community                        | 164        |
| Summary                                                | 167        |
| Chapter 7 CCTV Operators and Stewards           | 169 |
| CCTV operators                                         | 170        |
| Stewards                                               | 175        |
| 'Real' police work and 'real' police                   | 180        |
| Summary                                                | 184        |
| Part III                                    |            |
| Conclusion: The Big Implications of Small Teams | 189 |
| Implications for interaction                           | 190        |
| Implications for the occupational culture              | 194        |
| Implications for Goffman                               | 198        |
| Notes                                       | 201 |
| Bibliography                                | 205 |
| Index                                       | 215 |