

Table of Contents

Preface by Rod Preece	i
Acknowledgements	iii
Chapter 1 – Introduction	1
Chapter 2 – The Variable Social Construction of Animals and Their Abuse	9
An Historical Overview of the Involvement of Animals in Human Societies	9
Modernity, Postmodernity, and the Changing Perceptions of Animals	13
The Growth of the Concern for Animal Welfare and Rights	16
The Complexity of Attitudes towards Animals in Contemporary Society	18
Summary	21
Chapter 3 – Social Science and Animal-Related Research	23
The Inadequate Research Attention Paid to Animal-Related Issues	23
Demands for Social Scientific Research on Animals	28
The Human-Animal Bond Research	30
Research into the Relationship between Animal Abuse and Interpersonal Violence	34
Summary	45

Chapter 4 – The Multiple Victims of Family Violence	47
The Inclusion of Animal Abuse as a Component of Family Violence	48
The Need for a Comprehensive Approach to Family Violence	51
Forms of Abuse Perpetrated within the Family	53
Theorizing the Coexistence of Animal Abuse and Other Forms of Family Violence	55
Summary	70
 Chapter 5 – Research Methodology	 73
The Study Design	73
The Study Sample	77
Data Collection	79
Data Analysis	80
Ethical Considerations	86
Summary	88
 Chapter 6 – An Analysis of How Animal Abuse and Other Forms of Family Violence Coexist	 91
Overview of the Sample and the Forms of Abuse Reported	91
Making Demands, Making Threats, and Taking Action to Get Rid of the Pets	95
Threats to Harm the Pets	101
The Neglect of Pets by Abusive Partners	104
The Psychological Abuse of Pets by Abusive Partners	108
The Physical Abuse of Pets by Abusive Partners	109
The Relationship between Battered Women and Their Pets	117
(Not) Leaving an Abusive Partner When Pets Are Involved	121
Summary	126

Chapter 7 – An Analysis of Why Animal Abuse and Other Forms of Family Violence Coexist	129
The Participants' Views of Their Ex/Partners' Attitudes towards Animals	129
The Circumstances Surrounding the Acquisition of the Pets	133
Animal Abuse and Maltreatment as the Result of Generalized Aggression or as Instrumentalized Abuse?	139
Nonphysical Forms of Abuse and the Issues of Control and Jealousy	155
Explanations of Why Some of the Abusive Partners Did Not Mistreat the Pets	157
Summary	159
Chapter 8 – Discussion and Conclusions	161
Notes	177
Appendix A: Institutional Proposal	181
Appendix B: Interview Schedule	191
Appendix C: Letter Distributed to Shelter Participants	205
Appendix D: Consent Forms for Shelter Participants	207
Appendix E: Letter Distributed to Support Group Participants	209
Appendix F: Interview Cover Sheet	211
Bibliography	213
Index	225

Tables

6.1	Forms of Familial Abuse Reportedly Perpetrated by the Participants' Ex/Partners	93
------------	--	-----------