

Contents

Contributors	vii
Foreword by Beverley Raphael	ix
Foreword by Iona Heath	xi
Preface	xiii
SECTION 1 – History and background issues	1
Chapter 1
The history of intimate partner abuse and health professionals: what have we inherited? Gwenneth Roberts	3
Chapter 2
What is intimate partner abuse and how common is it? Kelsey Hegarty	19
SECTION 2 – Impact, education, identification, and intervention	41
Chapter 3
Impact of intimate partner abuse on physical and mental health: how does it present in clinical practice? Jacquelyn C Campbell, Kathryn Laughon, and Anne Woods	43
Chapter 4
Educating health professionals: changing attitudes and overcoming barriers Carole Warshaw, Angela Taft, and Heather McCosker-Howard	61
Chapter 5
Identification of intimate partner abuse in health care settings: should health professionals be screening? Kelsey Hegarty, Gene Feder, and Jean Ramsay	79
Chapter 6
Clinical response to women experiencing intimate partner abuse: what is the evidence for good practice and policy? Gene Feder, Jean Ramsay, and Mary Zachary	93

Chapter 7

How is intimate partner abuse experienced by childbearing women?

111

Heather McCosker-Howard and Anne B Woods

Chapter 8

What is the impact of intimate partner abuse on children?

127

Jennifer Smith

Chapter 9

Managing the whole family when women are abused by intimate partners: challenges for health professionals

145

Angela Taft and Judy Shakespeare

Chapter 10

Medico-legal issues: when women speak into silence

163

Jocelynn Scutt

SECTION 3 – Cultural diversity and intimate partner abuse

179

Chapter 11

Cultural competence and intimate partner abuse: health care interventions

181

Michael A Rodríguez and George Saba

Chapter 12

Intimate partner abuse and Indigenous peoples

197

Judy Atkinson

Chapter 13

Gay and lesbian relationships and intimate partner abuse

213

Michael V Relf and Nancy Glass

Chapter 14

Intimate partner abuse research and training: the way forward

229

Kelsey Hegarty, Gene Feder, and Gwenneth Roberts

Index

237