1 Introduction.....	25
1.1 Statement of the Problem.....	26
1.2 Review of the Literature.....	28
1.3 Methodology and Structure.....	32
2 Evolution of Sugarbeet Processing in Poland and Other Countries.....	36
3 The Polish Sugar Industry under Communist Rule.....	38
3.1 Agricultural Reforms and their Effect on the Economic Efficiency of Sugar Production.....	38
3.2 Structure, Organization and Functioning of the Sugar Industry between 1945 and 1989.....	44
3.3 The Production, Consumption, Export and Import of Sugar.....	50
3.4 On the Verge of Transition to a Market Economy.....	53
4 The Technology and Economics of Sugarbeet Processing.....	56
4.1 Basic Information about Cultivation and Processing of Sugarbeets.....	56
4.2 Costs Structure in the Production of Beet Sugar in Poland and the Possibilities for Their Reduction.....	60
4.3 The Relationship Between Size of a Sugar Factory and the Economic Efficiency of Beet Sugar Production.....	67
5 Transformations in Structure and Ownership in the European Sugar Industry.....	72
5.1 The Consolidation Process of Sugarbeet-processing Plants in Europe..	72
5.2 Concentration of Ownership in the European Sugar Industry.....	78
5.3 The Incorporation of Sugar Factories in Central and Eastern Europe into the Structures of West European Sugar Corporations.....	80
5.4 Outlook.....	81
6 Situation in the World Sugar Market, 1990-2004: International Analysis.....	82
7 Developments in the Sugar Market in Poland and Changes of Productive Efficiency in the Domestic Sugar Industry: 1990-2004.....	93
8 Financial and Economic Condition of the Sugar Industry in Poland: 1990-2004.....	102
9 Regulation of the Sugar Market in the Enlarged European Union.....	108
9.1 Objectives of the Common Agricultural Policy and the Common Organization of the Markets in the Sugar Sector.....	109

9.2 The Cornerstones of CMO Sugar.....	110
9.3 Export and Import of Sugar.....	117
9.4 Costs of CMO Sugar.....	122
9.5 Organization of the Sugar Market in Poland before the Country's EU Accession.....	126
9.6 Implications of Poland's EU Accession for Local Sugar Producers, Consumers and Sugarbeet Growers.....	138
9.6.1 Integration into the CAP: Effects for Sugarbeet Growers in Poland	140
9.6.2 Consequences of Poland's EU Accession for Domestic Sugar Producers.....	145
9.6.3 Developments in the Sugar Market in Poland Before and After the Country's EU Accession.....	148
9.6.4 Conclusions.....	152
9.7 Whither the European (and the Polish) Sugar Industry?.....	154
10 The Competitiveness of Sugar Producers: Analysis of Key Success Factors.....	165
10.1 Determinants of Competitiveness in the Sugar Industry.....	165
10.2 Crucial Indicators of Productive Efficiency in the Production of Beet Sugar.....	179
11 Privatization and the Determinants of Enterprise Restructuring.....	182
11.1 Privatization of State-owned Enterprises in Poland: Objectives and Methods.....	182
11.1.1 The Goals of Privatization from Above.....	183
11.1.2 Delineation of Selected Privatization Paths.....	184
11.1.2.1 Indirect Privatization (Capital Method).....	185
11.1.2.2 Direct Privatization (Leasing of a Company's Assets to a New Company set up by Its Employees).....	187
11.2 Definitions, Types and Measurement Methods of Enterprise Restructuring.....	189
11.3 Social Aspects of Industrial Restructuring in Transition Economies...	196
12 Foreign Direct Investment.....	199
12.1 What is FDI?.....	199
12.2 Development of Possibilities for FDI in Poland.....	200
12.3 Selected Theories explaining the Determinants of FDI.....	204
12.3.1 Internalization Theory (Market Imperfections).....	204
12.3.2 Product Life-Cycle Theory.....	205
12.3.3 Developmental Theories by Porter and Ozawa.....	206
12.3.4 Portfolio Theory.....	207
12.3.5 Strategic Behavior (Oligopolistic Reactions).....	208
12.3.6 Location Hypothesis.....	209
