

Contents

Preface	7
Günter Kniess
Introduction	13
Norbert Klaes
The role of universities in the dialogue of cultures and religions	17
Marlène Kanaan
Idées et fonctions de l'université face aux défis contemporains	29
Louis Boisset
L'avenir de la médiation interculturelle	43
Wessam A. Farag
Higher education reform and the quest for intercultural dialogue: opportunities and risks in the Middle East	49
Hermann Weber
Brain drain and diaspora networks: limits and chances for the Arab world	61
Jean Jabbour
L'université dans une société plurielle : L'Université Libanaise otage du confessionnalisme et apte à s'en libérer	87
Josef Freise
Dialogue between the Occidental and the Oriental worlds: an exchange program between German and Palestinian students as a way of intercultural learning	99
Lamia El-Khoury
Personal experiences as a foreign student in Germany	109
Dieter Weiss
For a new partnership of European and Middle Eastern universities	113
Samir Khalil Samir
Critical thinking as a prerequisite for serious dialogue and the role of universities in developing it	121
Tarek Mitri
Concluding remarks	141
The authors	149
Index of personal and place names	153