

Contents

Editor's Preface Zvi Grumet	vii
From Pre-Modernity to Modernity
On the Morality of the Patriarchs: Must biblical heroes be perfect? Jacob J. Schacter	1
From the Inside Looking in: Some musings on day school education Stuart Zweiter	11
Universalism, Particularism and "The Dignity of Difference:" Pedagogical and curricular implications Moshe Sokolow	29
Communication: The basic building block of relationships with children and adolescents David Pelcovitz	49
Students Encountering the Media and the Internet: A scientific analysis amongst youth in the Jewish community Scott J. Goldberg	59
From Modernity to Post-Modernity
Perspectives for the Future of Jewish Education David J. Schnall	75
Assessing Emerging Identity among Religious High School Students: Reflections on the Israeli experience Yisrael Rich	83
Does Israel Really Matter? Irwin J. Mansdorf	99
Jewish Education in the Postmodern World Elliot Malamet	119
Beginning at the Beginning: What should the Jewish community be doing for new Jewish parents? Marc Rosen	127
Afterword
Jewish Education: It's time to rock the boat Aryeh Rubin	137
Contributors	141