

Table of Contents

|                                                                                                  |         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Contributors                                                                                     | vii     |
| Preface                                                                                          | ix      |
| F. W. KENT: The Young Lorenzo, 1449–1469                                                         | 1–22    |
| KATE LOWE: Lorenzo's 'Presence' at Churches, Convents and Shrines in and outside Florence        | 23–36   |
| LINDA PELLECCIA: Designing the Via Laura Palace: Giuliano da Sangallo, the Medici, and Time      | 37–63   |
| ALISON WRIGHT: A Portrait for the Visit of Galeazzo Maria Sforza to Florence in 1471             | 65–92   |
| E. B. FRYDE: Lorenzo's Greek Manuscripts, and in Particular his own Commissions                  | 93–104  |
| PAOLA VENTRONE: Lorenzo's Politica festiva                                                | 105–116 |
| NERIDA NEWBIGIN: Politics in the Sacre Rappresentazioni of Lorenzo's Florence             | 117–130 |
| KRISTEN LIPPINCOTT: The Art of Cartography in Fifteenth-Century Florence                         | 131–149 |
| JILL KRAYE: Lorenzo and the Philosophers                                                         | 151–166 |
| MARIO MARTELLI: La cultura letteraria nell'età di Lorenzo                                        | 167–176 |
| FRANCESCA BATTERA: Le Pistole di Luca Pulci e la formazione culturale del giovane Lorenzo | 177–190 |
| PAOLO ORVIETO: La canzone 'Quando raggio di sole' di Lorenzo                                     | 191–202 |
| PETER DENLEY: Signore and Studio : Lorenzo in a Comparative Context                       | 203–216 |

|                                                                                             |         |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| ROBERT BLACK: Lorenzo and Arezzo                                                            | 217–234 |
| STEPHEN MILNER: Lorenzo and Pistoia: Peacemaker or Partisan?                                | 235–252 |
| MICHAEL MALLET: Horse-Racing and Politics in Lorenzo's Florence                             | 253–262 |
| MELISSA BULLARD: Lorenzo and Patterns of Diplomatic Discourse in the Late Fifteenth Century | 263–274 |
| HUMFREY BUTTERS: Lorenzo and Machiavelli                                                    | 275–280 |
| ALISON BROWN: Lorenzo and Guicciardini                                                      | 281–296 |
| NICOLAI RUBINSTEIN: Lorenzo's Image in Europe                                               | 297–312 |
| Index                                                                                       | 313     |