

CONTENTS

PROLOGUE page 1

PART I: Doubtful Endings page 7

1. BIRTH AFTER DEATH

- An American story 9 • A German story 12
- Our choice 16

2. HOW DEATH WAS REDEFINED

- Pink, supple...and dead 20 • "The burden is great": The Harvard committee on the determination of death 22
- A revolution without opposition 28 • Brain death: Who believes it? 32 • An unstable compromise 35

3. DR SHANN'S DILEMMA

- Two babies 38 • Breathing but dead? 42
- The case for a higher brain definition of death 46
- Against brain death 50 • A way forward? 54

4. TONY BLAND AND THE SANCTITY OF HUMAN LIFE

- Fine phrases 57 • Tony Bland's tragedy 57
- Deciding on the basis of quality of life 65 • Lawfully intending to end innocent human life 68 • Discarding a fig leaf 70 • Beyond the sanctity of human life 73
- Acts and omissions 75

PART II: Crumbling at the Edges page 81

5. UNCERTAIN BEGINNINGS

- Peggy Stinson's puzzle 83 • The unavoidable issue 85
- The era of legal abortion 90 • New reproductive technology and the abortion debate 93
- Unlocking the abortion deadlock 100

6. MAKING QUALITY OF LIFE JUDGMENTS.

- How the Reagan administration chose a quality of life ethic 106
- Treating to die 115
- Selective non-treatment and infanticide 128

7. ASKING FOR DEATH

- The problem 132
- The solution? 141
- How voluntary euthanasia became possible in the Netherlands 143
- The coming struggle for the right to die 147
- Sliding down a slippery slope? 150
- Breaking the commandment 157

8. BEYOND THE DISCONTINUOUS MIND

- An unusual institution 159
- Whose organs may we take? 163
- In God's image and at the centre of the universe 165
- The western tradition under attack 169
- Who is Homo? 172
- Who is a person? 180

PART III: Towards a Coherent Approach page 185

9. IN PLACE OF THE OLD ETHIC

- The structure of ethical revolutions 187
- Rewriting the commandments 189
- Some answers 206
- The basis of the new approach to life and death 219

NOTES 223

BIBLIOGRAPHY 238

INDEX 247