

CONTENTS

Preface		vii
Chapter 1	Severe Thunderstorms and Tornadoes in the United States Peter Folger	1
Chapter 2	Five Tornado Recovery Advisories Federal Emergency Management Agency	23
Chapter 3	Tornado Protection: Selecting Refuge Areas in Buildings Federal Emergency Management Agency	69
Chapter 4	Super Tuesday Tornado Outbreak of February 5-6, 2008 United States Department of Commerce	117
Chapter 5	Opening Statement by Chairman David Wu, Hearing on “The National Windstorm Impact Reduction Program: Strengthening Windstorm Hazard Mitigation” David Wu	157
Chapter 6	Statement of Dr. Sharon L. Hays, Associate Director & Deputy Director for Science, Office of Science and Technology Policy, before the Subcommittee on Technology and Innovation, Hearing on “The National Windstorm Impact Reduction Program: Strengthening Windstorm Hazard Mitigation” Sharon L. Hays	159
Chapter 7	Statement of Dr. Marc L. Levitan, Director, LSU Hurricane Center, Charles P. Siess, Jr. Professor, Associate Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering, Louisiana State University, before the Hearing on “The National Windstorm Impact Reduction Program: Strengthening Windstorm Hazard Mitigation” Marc L. Levitan and Charles P. Siess	175

Chapter 8	Testimony of Leslie Chapman-Henderson, President, CEO, Federal Alliance for Safe Homes, Inc.(FLASH), before the Subcommittee on Technology and Innovation, “Commentary Regarding the State of Windstorm Reduction Impact Program Efforts” Leslie Chapman-Henderson	185
Chapter 9	Testimony of Timothy A. Reinhold, PhD., PE (Colorado), Sr. Vice President of Research and Chief Engineer, Institute for Business & Home Safety, Tampa, Florida, before the Subcommittee on Technology and Innovation, Hearing on “The National Windstorm Impact Reduction Program: Strengthening Windstorm Hazard Mitigation” Timothy A. Reinhold	195
Index		205