

Contents

|                                                                                                                                    |    |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                             | ix |
| Introduction: France and the Israeli-Palestinian ConflictNATHALIE DEBRAUWERE-MILLER                                     | 1  |
| PART IAlternative History of Zionism and the Jewish Question, 1914–1950                                      |    |
| 1 Tracing the Shadow of Palestine: The Zionist-Arab Conflict and Jewish-Muslim Relations in France, 1914–1945ETHAN KATZ | 25 |
| 2 The Paradoxes of Zionism in the Work of Albert CohenPHILIPPE ZARD                                                     | 41 |
| 3 “One Nation (In)divisible?”: Sartre and the Jewish QuestionLAWRENCE R. SCHEHR                                         | 55 |
| PART IIFrancophone Literature and Cinema on the Conflict, 1957–2000                                          |    |
| 4 Slimane Benaïssa, or the Voice of DissidenceCYRIL ASLANOV                                                             | 67 |
| 5 The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict in France: A Conflict in Search of Novelistic RepresentationsANNY DAYAN-ROSENMAN     | 81 |

- 6 When “L’Essence Arrose de Haine”: The Reinvention of Identity in Francophone Tunisian Literature 93
LAMIA BEN YOUSSEF ZAYZAFOON

- 7 Otherwise Occupied: The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict in the Francophone Cinema 105
LINCOLN Z. SHLENSKY

PART III

Violence, Martyrdom and Terrorism, 1970–2007

- 8 The Agony for Justice 123
FETHI BENSLAMA
- 9 Out of Palestine: Jean Genet’s Shooting Stars 141
BRUNO CHAOUAT

PART IV

Muslim-Jewish Relations in France, 1990–2008

- 10 The War Comes Home: Muslim-Jewish Relations in Marseille during the 1991 Gulf War 163
MAUD S. MANDEL
- 11 Hung Up on Being Fair and Left Hanging between the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict and the “Banlieues” 180
JOHANN SADOCK
- 12 Jews and Arabs in Postcolonial France, a Situated Account of a Long Painful Story of Intimacy 193
NACIRA GUÉNIF-SOUILAMAS

PART V

Judeocentrism, Anti-Semitism and French Intelligentsia, 2000–2008

- 13 A New Judeocentrism? On a Recent Trend in French Thought 209
JEFFREY MEHLMAN

|           |                                                                                                    |            |
|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 14 | Dual Narratives on the Middle East Conflict: Analysis of a French Literary Genre, 1967–2006 | 222 |
|           | DENIS CHARBIT                                                                                      |            |
| 15 | How One Becomes a Traitor                                                                   | 232 |
|           | ESTHER BENBASSA                                                                                    |            |
|           | Contributors                                                                                | 251        |
|           | Index                                                                                       | 257        |