

Contents

Preface	ix
Abbreviations	xii
Introduction	1
1 The Identity Problem: Tensions in the Christological Tradition	17
Models of incarnation in the early church	19
Jesus and the Logos after Chalcedon	31
Divine immutability	40
Kenosis	48
Divine impassibility	57
Conclusions	68
2 Barth's Response to Logos Christology	71
The Logos in Barth's early thought: Lectures in Göttingen and Münster (1921–30)	74
The Logos and divine freedom: Church Dogmatics I/2	84
Christological particularism in the later Barth	101
Conclusions	108
3 Reconciliation: The Positive Doctrine of Christ	111
Christology's formal ground: Covenant and election	114
The incarnation in time and eternity	120
"Two essence" Christology and the communication of natures	128
Humiliation and exaltation: The status duplex	140
Conclusions	152
4 The Question of "Chalcedonianism"	155
Ecclesial authority and the confessions	159
Chalcedonian concepts and speculative metaphysics	170
The Chalcedonian character of Barth's Christology	179
Conclusions: The question of necessity	190

5	Barth's Christology and the Challenge of the Incarnation	195
	Identity and the status duplex	197
	Immutability and the incarnation	209
	Kenotic humility and obedience	213
	Impassibility: Communion of essences and the suffering Son	218
	Conclusions: The humanity of God	223
	Bibliography	229
	Index	243