

Contents

Editor's Statement	iii
List of Participants	vii
Erkki Pehkonen & Günter Törner
Mathematical Belief Systems and Their Meaning for the Teaching and Learning of Mathematics	1
Peter Berger
Teachers' Beliefs about Computers and Computer Science	15
A Study on Mathematics and Computer Science Teachers
Stefan Grigutsch
On Pupils' Self-Concepts as Learners of Mathematics	23
Developments, Reciprocal Effects and Factors of Influence in the Estimation of Pleasure, Diligence and Achievements
Dietlinde Gruß
How Do Adults Experience their Mathematical Engagement?	29
Sinikka Lindgren
Is it Possible to Attain Change in Pre-Service Teachers' Beliefs about Mathematics?	35
Christoph Oster
The Problem of Coaching Mathematics	41
As Seen by Pupils and Active Teachers Involved
Erkki Pehkonen
Children's Responses to the Question: What is Mathematics?	45
Monika Rahmann
Attitudes and Attitude Change of Mathematics Teachers at the 'Gymnasium'	51
Hans-Joachim Sander
'What is a Good Mathematics Teacher?'	57
Results of an Inquiry of Students at a Gymnasium in North Rhine-Westphalia
Sabine Weber
Social Beliefs about Mathematics	63
A Content Analysis of the German Press	