1 The Magnitude of the Problem 1		1.4.8 Multiple Primary Tumors in Major Salivary Gland Tumors	18
NICO DE VRIES		1.4.9 Multiple Primary Tumors in Esophageal Cancer	18
1.1 Introduction: Historical Review, Current and Future Developments	1	1.4.10 Multiple Primary Tumors in Maxillary Sinus Cancer	18
1.2 Nomenclature, Classification and Criteria	2	1.5 Second Primary Cancer within the Lung	18
1.2.1 Introduction; Nomenclature	2	1.5.1 Introduction	18
1.2.2 Classification According to Localization	2	1.5.2 Histology of Second Lung Cancer	19
1.2.3 Multicentricity	2	1.5.3 Site of Second Lung Cancer: Consequences for Screening	19
1.2.4 Etiologically Related Tumors	3	1.5.4 Occurrence in Time, Survival, and Management of Second Lung Cancer	20
1.2.5 Classification According to Time of Appearance	4	1.6 High-Risk Groups	20
1.2.6 Criteria	5	1.6.1 Introduction	20
1.3 Immunological Studies	6	1.6.2 Host Factors	21
1.3.1 Introduction	6	1.6.3 Environmental Factors	22
1.3.2 Material and Methods	7	1.6.4 Premalignant Lesions	24
1.3.3 Results	8	1.7 Conclusion	24
1.3.4 Discussion	10	References	25
1.4 Incidence of Multiple Primary Tumors in Head and Neck Cancer	11	2 Chemoprevention of Second Malignancies in Patients with Squamous Cell Carcinoma of the Head and Neck	30
1.4.1 Introduction	11	BARBARA G. FALLON
1.4.2 Multiple Primary Tumors in Laryngeal Cancer	12	2.1 Introduction	30
1.4.3 Multiple Primary Tumors in Oral Cancer	14	2.1.1 Carcinogenesis and Prevention	30
1.4.4 Multiple Primary Tumors in Hypopharyngeal Cancer	15
1.4.5 Multiple Primary Tumors in Oropharyngeal Cancer	16
1.4.6 Multiple Primary Tumors in Nasopharyngeal Carcinoma	16
