

Paramilitary Imprisonment In Northern Ireland

Resistance, Management, and Release

Kieran McEvoy

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

| | |
|---|-----------|
| General Editors' Introduction | vii |
| Acknowledgements | ix |
| List of Figures and Tables | xvii |
| 1. Background and Definitions | 1 |
| Introduction | 1 |
| Definitional Issues and the Recognition of Political Motivation | 1 |
| Background to Prison Research in Northern Ireland | 7 |
| Background to the Conflict in Northern Ireland | 9 |
| Background to the Prisons in Northern Ireland | 15 |
| Outline of Book Structure | 18 |
| 2. Coping, Resistance, and Political Imprisonment | 23 |
| Introduction | 23 |
| Coping with Imprisonment | 24 |
| Resistance as Political Struggle | 31 |
| Resistance and Power | 34 |
| Resistance as Collective Action | 37 |
| Resistance and Control of Space | 42 |
| Techniques of Resistance Employed by Paramilitary Prisoners in Northern Ireland | 43 |
| 3. Escape: Resistance as Ridicule | 48 |
| Introduction | 48 |
| Escape as Ideological Conflict | 50 |
| The Attitudes of Republican Prisoners Towards Escape | 51 |
| Escapes in the Early 1970s: Opportunism and Adventure | 53 |
| The Risks Involved in Escapes and Escape Attempts | 55 |
| Prison Escapes in England | 57 |
| The Maze Escape | 58 |
| Post-Ceasefire Escapes and Escape Attempts | 61 |
| Loyalist Prisoners' Attitude Towards Escape | 64 |
| Conclusion | 67 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 4. Hunger Strike and Dirty Protest: Resistance as Self-Sacrifice | 72 |
| Introduction | 72 |
| Hunger Strike: The Political–Historical Context | 73 |
| Historical Background to Republican Hunger Strikes | 75 |
| Hunger Strikes and Special Category Status in the Early 1970s | 78 |
| Political Status and the Transfer of Prisoners from England | 80 |
| The Body, Dirty Protest, and the Origins of the 1980–1981 Hunger Strikes | 82 |
| The 1980–1981 Hunger Strikes | 91 |
| The Second Hunger Strike and Political Mobilization | 94 |
| The Implications of the 1980–1981 Hunger Strikes | 97 |
| Loyalist Dirty Protest and Hunger Strikes | 100 |
| Conclusion: Hunger Strike and Dirty Protest as Resistance | 105 |
| | |
| 5. Resistance and Violence: Power, Intimidation, and Control of Space | 108 |
| Introduction | 108 |
| Prison Violence and Resistance | 109 |
| Assassinations and Intimidation of Prison Staff and their Families | 113 |
| Organized Destruction within the Prisons | 120 |
| Inmate on Inmate Violence | 126 |
| Intimidation, Conditioning, and the Struggle for Control of Space within the Prisons | 130 |
| Conclusion: Power, Space, and Violence as ‘Part of the Furniture’ | 134 |
| | |
| 6. Resistance and the Law: Prisons and the Political Struggle | 137 |
| Introduction | 137 |
| Paramilitary Defendants, the Legitimacy of the Courts, and Law as Dialogue | 139 |
| Law, Dialogue with Legal Professionals, and ‘Adopting the Evidence’ | 147 |
| Law as External Dialogue: The Strategy of Internationalization | 150 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| Law and Struggle in the Prisons | 157 |
| The Prisons, Sinn Fein, and Law as Political Struggle | 167 |
| Law as Absorption or Reconfiguration of Struggle? | 171 |
| Conclusion | 175 |
| 7. Prison Management and Prison Staff | 178 |
| Introduction | 178 |
| Models of Prison Management | 179 |
| Models of Prison Management in the Northern Ireland | |
| Context | 182 |
| Prison Management and Relations with Organized | |
| Groups of Prisoners | 184 |
| Prison Management and Power Relationships with | |
| Prisoners | 187 |
| Prison Management and Prison Staff | 191 |
| Prison Officers in Northern Ireland | 195 |
| 8. Reactive Containment, 1969–1975 | 204 |
| Introduction | 204 |
| The Deployment of British Troops and the Ownership | |
| of Security Policy | 206 |
| Internment: Incapacitation of the Enemy | 209 |
| Special Category Status: Political Status and Negotiation | |
| with the Enemy | 216 |
| The Diplock Courts and Emergency Legislation: | |
| Processing the Terrorists | 220 |
| Conclusion | 225 |
| 9. Criminalisation, 1976–1981 | 227 |
| Introduction | 227 |
| Criminalisation and Ulsterisation | 228 |
| Implementing Criminalisation: The Characteristics | |
| within the Prisons | 232 |
| Rules Enforcement and the Assertion of Power | 234 |
| The Internalization of Propagandist Positions | 239 |
| Brutality, Violence, and Dehumanization | 243 |
| Hothouse Management and Political and Security | |
| Interference | 246 |
| Conclusion | 248 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 10. Managerialism, 1981–2000 | 250 |
| Introduction | 250 |
| What is Managerialism? | 254 |
| Managerialism as the Articulation of Existing Ideology and Working Practices | 262 |
| The Aftermath of the Hunger Strikes and the Demise of Defeating Terrorism through the Prisons | 263 |
| The Disruption and Quarantining of Paramilitary Influence in the Prison System | 266 |
| Treatment as Individuals and the Struggle Against Paramilitary Influence | 280 |
| Dialogue and Recognition: Managerialism and the Paramilitary Command Structures | 285 |
| Life Sentenced Prisoners and the Pragmatic Assessment of Risk | 288 |
| The Reliance on Paramilitary Discipline | 295 |
| Partnership with Stakeholder Organizations and the Reduction of Conflict with Prisoners' Families | 301 |
| Managerialism, Autonomy, and the Struggle for Organizational Power | 304 |
| Conclusion | 309 |
| | |
| 11. Prisoner Release, the Peace Process, and the Political Character of the Conflict | 314 |
| Introduction | 314 |
| The Historical Context of the Early Release of Politically Motivated Prisoners in Ireland | 315 |
| Prisoners and the 1994 Ceasefire Declarations | 320 |
| The British Government Response to the 1994 Ceasefires: 'Minimalist and Begrudging' | 323 |
| Prisoners, the Renewed IRA Ceasefire, and Negotiating the Agreement | 330 |
| Prisoners and the Referenda Campaigns | 333 |
| The Prisoner Release Legislation | 335 |
| Prisoner Release and the Acknowledgement of Political Motivation | 349 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| Epilogue: Political Prisons and the Construction of Memory | 354 |
| Appendix I. A Selected Chronology of Prison Events, 1971–2000 | 361 |
| Appendix II. Notes on the Research Process | 370 |
| Bibliography | 375 |
| Newspapers and Magazines Cited | 413 |
| Table of Cases | 421 |
| Table of Statutes | 422 |
| Westminster Debates | 423 |
| Index | 425 |