

Contents

1	Universities Before the War	1
	Introduction	1
	The Universities on the Eve of War	7
	Funding	9
	The Student Community	14
	Research Before the War	19
	Some Final Reflections	25
2	Responding to the Demands of War	29
	The Immediate Response	29
	Belgium and the British Universities	33
	German Nationals Working in British Universities	41
	Student Issues	47
	Staffing Matters	56
	Dissenting Voices	64
	Student Numbers	66
	Coping with the War	74
	Preserving International Links	78

Medical Students: Some Special Considerations	80
Looking Ahead	83
3 Funding of Higher Education	91
The Shock of War	91
Making Savings	95
Economies in the University of Oxford	95
The Response of Government	102
Special Funding for Universities	102
Looking to the Future	123
Changing Ideas: The Kidd Memorandum	133
The Universities' Deputation of November 1918	139
The End of the War	155
The War and University Finance: Some Reflections	166
4 Developments in Teaching and a Changing Workforce	171
New Priorities	171
Military Education	171
Working with Industry and Business	173
The Bristol Partnership	174
Sponsorship by Industry	176
New Programmes in Commerce and Administration	178
Developments in the Social Sciences	183
Social Sciences at the University of Liverpool	183
Social Study at the University of Manchester	186
Modern Languages	188
The Changing Professions	194
Medicine at the University of Edinburgh	194
Veterinary Science	199
Education and Teacher Training	201
Imperial Studies	205
Adult Education and External Lectures	208
Changing Priorities	209
A Changing Workforce	212
The 1918 Staff Memorandum	213

5	Supporting the War Effort	223
	Supporting the Forces	223
	Honours and Casualties	223
	The Officers Training Corps	228
	The OTC at the University of Leeds	229
	The OTC at the University of Bristol	231
	Changes Towards the End of the War	233
	Munitions Work	235
	War-Related Courses	237
	Manufacturing and Production of Key Supplies	241
	Courses for British Prisoners-of-War and Serving Soldiers	241
	Supporting the Community	244
	Agriculture and Food Production	244
	Working with Schools and Colleges	247
	Hospitals and Public Health	251
	Buildings and Land	257
	Students and the War Effort at Home	261
	A Final Reflection	271
6	The Importance of University Research	273
	Introduction	273
	Establishment of the Committee for Scientific and Industrial Research	274
	McCormick's Memorandum of 1915	275
	Research in the Universities	284
	New Structures and Procedures	295
	Extending Links with Business: New Functions and New Departments	298
	The Department of Glass Technology, University of Sheffield	302
	Textiles Research at the University of Leeds	309
	The Changing Position of Research in Universities	311
	Internationalisation and the Development of the Ph.D.	318
	Some Final Reflections	323

7	Final Reflections	327
	The Emerging Public University	327
	The War and Science	337
	New Horizons	343
	A Final Comment	346
	Bibliography	349
	Index	353