

Contents

INTRODUCTION by Bram Dijkstra	1
A NOTE ON THE TEXT	47
PROLOGUE: Still Lifes	55
Vortex (1915)	57
Some Observations on Artists and Critics (1919–1920)	60
Comment on Contact (1920–21)	64
French Painting (1928)	69
Notes on Art (1928)	73
Art and Politics: The Editorship of Blast (1933)	75
The Neglected Artist (1936)	82
Revolutions Revalued (1936)	97
An Afternoon with Tchelitchew (1937)	119
Cache Cache (1942)	124
Effie Deans (c. 1937)	128
Walker Evans: American Photographs (1938)	136
Charles Sheeler (1939)	140
Charles Sheeler—Postscript (1954)	146
Marsden Hartley: 1940	149
Beginnings: Marsden Hartley: 1948	151
Marsden Hartley: 1956	155
Midas (1941)	157

The Poet in Time of Confusion (1941)	170
Axioms (1943)	175
What of Alfred Stieglitz (1946)	177
Woman as Operator (1948)	180
A Letter, Touching the Comintern, upon Censorship in the Arts (1948)	184
Nicholas Calas's Illumination of the Significance of Hieronymous Bosch's The Garden of Delights	188
The Portrait: Emanuel Romano (1951)	196
The Broken Vase	206
The American Spirit in Art (1951)	210
Notes on Movements, Artists, and Issues
I. The Visitors (c. 1944)	221
II. Theory of Excellence in the Arts (c.1948)	222
III. Picasso Breaks Faces (1950)	223
IV. Art and Social Organization (1950)	224
V. On the Practical Function of Art (c.1951)	225
VI. Alfred Eisenstaedt (1951)	226
VII. Talks and Readings, Hanover etc., April 1952	227
VIII. John Marin (1955)	229
IX. Patrocínio Barela (1955)	230
X. Henry Niese (1956)	230
XI. Whitman's Leaves of Grass and Photography (1960)	231
E. E. Cummings's Paintings and Poems (1954)	233
Painting in the American Grain (1954)	238
Brancusi (1955)	246
EPILOGUE: The World Contracted to a Recognizable Image	255
SOURCES	257