

Contents

Introduction, 3

I: The Stalinist Moment, 9

Yalta, 12

1. Report of the Crimea Conference (Yalta), 13
2. The Yalta Negotiations, Charles E. Bohlen, 19

Spheres of Influence, 28

3. Poland at the Teheran Conference, Charles E. Bohlen, 29
4. The Percentages Agreement, Winston S. Churchill, 31

The Truman Doctrine and the Two-Camp Policy, 33

5. The Truman Doctrine, Harry S. Truman, 35
6. The Two-Camp Policy, Andrei Zhdanov, 38

Stalinists, 43

7. The Case for Stalinism, Jakub Berman, 44
8. Ketman, Czesław Miłosz, 51

The Expulsion of Yugoslavia, 57

9. The Tito-Stalin Correspondence, 58

The Purge Trials, 66

10. The Trial of László Rajk, 67
11. The Slánský Trial, 71

II: The Marxist Critique, 79

The Hungarian Revolution, 81

12. Reform Communism, Imre Nagy, 82
13. Contemporary Problems of Marxist Philosophy, György Lukács, 88

Self-Management, 94

14. The Origins of Self-Management in Yugoslavia, Milovan Djilas, 95
15. The Challenge of Self-Management, 97

The New Class, 100

16. The New Class, Milovan Djilas, 101

Marxian Opposition in Poland, 107

17. The Kuroń-Modzelewski Open Letter to the Party, Jacek Kuroń and Karol Modzelewski, 108

CONTENTS

The Praxis Group, 115

18. The Praxis Group, Mihailo Marković, 116

The Prague Spring, 122

19. Towards a Democratic Political Organization of Society, Zdeněk Mlyndář, 123
20. Two Thousand Words to Workers, Farmers, Scientists, Artists, and Everyone, Ludvík Vaculík, 126

The Brezhnev Doctrine, 131

21. The Brezhnev Doctrine, Leonid Brezhnev, 132

III: Antipolitics and the Retreat to Ethics, 135

The Clerks, 137

22. The Debate of the Clerks, Leszek Kołakowski, 139
23. Intellectuals as a Class, György Konrád and Iván Szelényi, 144

The Sphere of Culture, 150

24. A Nation Which Cannot Take Itself for Granted, Milan Kundera, 151

Human Rights, 156

25. Ostpolitik, Willy Brandt, 158
26. The Helsinki Accords, 160
27. Charter 77, 163

Ethics and Antipolitics, 167

28. The Power of the Powerless, Václav Havel, 168
29. Antipolitics, György Konrád, 175

IV: The Return of Politics, 181

Economic Problems, 183

30. Soft Budget Constraints, János Kornai, 184
31. Environmental Concerns in Poland, Sabine Rosenblatt, 188

Poland in the Late 1970s, 193

32. KOR's Appeal to Society, 194
33. Pope John Paul II Speaks in Victory Square, Warsaw, Pope John Paul II, 200

Solidarity, 204

34. The Gdańsk Agreement, 205
35. Solidarity's Program, 209
36. Jaruzelski Declares Martial Law, Wojciech Jaruzelski, 214

Central Europe, 216

37. The Tragedy of Central Europe, Milan Kundera, 217

The Return of Solidarity, 224

38. Letter from Gdańsk Prison, Adam Michnik, 225
39. A Solidarity Government Takes Power, Tadeusz Mazowiecki, 229

Contents

New Visions in Hungary, 232

- 40. A New Social Contract, János Kis, Ferenc Köszeg, and Ottilia Solt, 233
- 41. The Third Way, Iván Szelényi, 237

The Revolution of 1989, 242

- 42. The Opening of the Berlin Wall, Craig R. Whitney, David Binder, and Serge Schmemmann, 244
- 43. New Year's Day Speech, 1990, Václav Havel, 249

V: After the Fall, 255

Nationalism, 257

- 44. Patriotism: A Vital Necessity, Ion Lăncrănjan, 259
- 45. Name Changes in Bulgaria, Stanko Todorov, 262
- 46. A Few Thoughts, István Csúrka, 265
- 47. Esteemed Compatriots, Zhelyu Zhelev, 270

The Collapse of Yugoslavia, 273

- 48. Memorandum of the Serbian Academy of Sciences (SANU), 275
- 49. The Slovene National Question, Dimitrij Rupel, 281
- 50. The Constitution of the Republic of Croatia, 285
- 51. Human Rights in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Haris Silajdžić, 287

Gorbachev's Legacy, 289

- 52. A Common European Home, Mikhail Gorbachev, 290
- 53. We Opened Ourselves to the World, Mikhail Gorbachev, 292