

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: In the Shadows of Constantine and Julian—The Sons of Constantine, AD 337–361	1
	Nicholas Baker-Brian and Shaun Tougher
Part I	Creating a Dynasty	21
2	From the Tetrarchy to the Constantinian Dynasty: A Narrative Introduction	23
	John Vanderspoel
3	Constantine II and His Brothers: The Civil War of AD 340	57
	William Lewis
Part II	Representations of Authority	95
4	Innovation and Orthodoxy in the Portraiture of Constantine and His Sons	97
	Eric R. Varner

5	The Ideology of Imperial Unity in Themistius (Or. 1) and Libanius (Or. 59)	133
	Christine Greenlee
6	The Memory of Mursa: Usurpation, Civil War, and Contested Legitimacy Under the Sons of Constantine	157
	Mark Humphries
7	Eusebia and Eusebius: The Roles and Significance of Constantinian Imperial Women and Court Eunuchs	185
	Shaun Tougher
Part III Administration and Governance		221
8	The Dynamics of Imperial Government: Collegiality and Regionalism	223
	Caillan Davenport
9	Governing the Empire: The Effects of the Diocletianic and Constantinian Provincial Reforms Under the Sons of Constantine	255
	Daniëlle Slootjes
10	Imperial Cities Under the Sons of Constantine	275
	Meaghan McEvoy
11	A Father's Legacy: Foreign Affairs Under the Sons of Constantine	309
	Michael Kulikowski
12	Economy and Society in the Age of the Sons of Constantine	329
	Peter Sarris

Part IV Religion and Culture	345
13 "I Have Taken Pains to Get Copies of Them" (Athanasius, De Synodis 55): Epistolary Relations Between the Sons of Constantine and the Christian Church	347
Nicholas Baker-Brian
14 Pagans and Paganism in the Age of the Sons of Constantine	389
Jan R. Stenger
References	415
Index	457