

CONTENTS

1	Introduction	1
	Laurens Schlicht and Carla Seemann
 Part I Technology and Mind Reading: Perspectives on Media and Occult Practices
2	Electrical Potential: Mind Reading as Collaborative Action	19
	Melissa M. Littlefield
3	The Omega Factor: The Revival of Telepathy in the 1970s	43
	Roger Luckhurst
4	Visualizing Thoughts: Photography, Neurology and Neuroimaging	63
	Anthony Enns
5	How Stage Magic Perpetuates Magical Beliefs	93
	Christine Mohr and Gustav Kuhn

Part II Reading and Interpreting the Criminal Mind: Practices of Policing and Political Control
6	The Idea of Reading Someone's Thoughts in Contemporary Lie Detection Techniques Larissa Fischer 109
7	Reading the Criminal in the Austrian School of Criminology: Unveiling the Deviant Character Through Measurement and Intuitive Introspection Christian Bachhiesl 139
8	Reading Children's Minds: Female Criminal Police and the Psychology of Testimony, ca. 1920–1944, the Cases of Maria Zillig and Berta Rathsam Laurens Schlicht 163
9	Mind Reading Through Body Language in Early Spanish Criminology and Juridical Psychology Annette Mülberger 191
10	"Talk to Each Other—But How?" Operative Psychology and IM-Work as "Micro-Totalitarian Practice" Martin Wieser 223
11	A New Look for Psychology: Reading the Political Unconscious from the Authoritarian Personality to Implicit Bias Michael Pettit 247
	Index 273