

CONTENTS

Transforming Digital Media and Technology in Latin America	1
Cheryl Martens, Etsa Franklin Salvio Sharupi Tapuy, and Cristina Venegas
 Part I Digital Territories: Transnational and Local Hybrid Experiences	25
 Radio Indígena and Indigenous Mexican Farmworkers in Oxnard, California	27
Carlos Jiménez
 Sounds of the Neighborhood: Innovation, Hybrid Urban Space, and Sound Trajectories	53
Doris Elena Pinos Calderón and Cristina Venegas
 Practitioner Perspective. Digital Networks in Bolivia: Territory, Community Collaboration, and the Wayna Tambo Diversity Network	81
Mario Rodríguez Ibáñez

Part II Approaches to Decolonizing Knowledge and Communication	95
Open Knowledge, Decolonial, and Intercultural Approaches to Communication Technologies for Mobility: The Achuar Kara Solar Project	97
David Vila-Viñas, Juan Manuel Crespo, and Cheryl Martens
Open Access in Dispute in Latin America: Toward the Construction of Counter-Hegemonic Structures of Knowledge	125
Maximiliano Salatino
Narratives for the Defense of the Digital Commons	149
Santiago García Gago
Practitioner Perspective. Autonomous Infrastructures: Community Cell phone Networks in Oaxaca, Mexico	163
Loreto Alejandra Bravo Muñoz
Part III Digital Activism and Resistance	175
Favela Digital Activism: The Use of Social Media to Fight Oppression and Injustice in Brazil	177
Andrea Medrado, Taynara Cabral, and Renata Souza
Jiujitsu Moves, Radio Bemba, and Other Transmedia Practices: Social Movement Strategies Counter Statist Media Power	203
Diana Coryat
Digital Activism and the Mapuche Nation in Chile	221
Salvador Andres Millaleo Hernández
Practitioner Perspective. Feminist Cyberactivism in Theory and in Practice	245
Natalia Angulo Moncayo

Part IV Documenting, Representing, and Strengthening Indigenous Language and Culture	267
Re-presenting Indigenous in Ecuadorian Media: A NewsFrames Approach Belén Febres-Cordero, Iria Puyosa, and Juan Diego Andrango Bolaños	269
Challenging Asymmetries of Power and Knowledge Through Learning Communities and Participatory Design in the Creation of Smart Grids in Wayúu Communities Javier Andrés Jiménez Becerra, Mónica Bustamante Salamanca, and Ángel Gutiérrez Pérez	287
Indigenous Journalism in Ecuador: An Alternative Worldview María Belén Albornoz and Gema Tabares Merino	311
Practitioner Perspective. Digital Communication Strategies for Strengthening and Empowering Amazonian Peoples and Nationalities: Community Radio and the Quijos Nation Etsa Franklin Salvio Sharupi Tapuy	335
Index	353