

Contents

Introduction: Are You Second Offline ?
The Doubling of Time and Place	3
Hidenori Tomita
Mobile Communication Technology and the Lifeworld: Examining the Implications of the Second Offline Concept from a Phenomenological Perspective	25
James E. Katz
Society Transformed through Mobile Media
Merged Reality: A Second “Second Offline”	45
Michael Björn
Application of XR to Regional Development	61
Yuichi Kogure
Media Mobilization and the Bricolage of Time and Place	73
Kota Ito
The Potential of the Participatory Design of Mobile Media in Post-mobile Society	89
Tomoyuki Okada
Workation and the Doubling of Time and Place	105
Keita Matsushita
Mobile Media As a Cultural Milieu
Ambient Play: Understanding Mobile Games in Everyday Life	123
Larissa Hjorth and Ingrid Richardson

Re-Genesis of ‘Now’ by Parasites’ Interruptions/Advents: Mobile Media Solipsist and the Re-Enchanted ‘Possible Worlds’	141
Kenichi Fujimoto
The Importance of Place in the Second Offline Life: Geographical Differences in Social Media Usage and Online Gaming Behavior	161
Misa Matsuda
Media Literacy and Emerging Media in Education	179
Eriko Uematsu
The Bodily Mode of the Selfie	193
Kyoung-hwa Yonnie Kim
Social Media and Mobile Society
Spatial Practices of the Second Offline	209
Jason Farman
Carrying Relationships: Cities, Social Networks, and Mobile Media . . .	227
Kunikazu Amagasa
Social Media Usage and Translocality Among Japanese Young Adults	245
Ichijo Habuchi	