

FANNING THE FLAMES

Propaganda in Modern Japan

Edited by Kaoru Ueda with essays by

Michael R. Auslin

Toshihiko Kishi

Hanae Kurihara Kramer

Scott Kramer

Barak Kushner

Olivia Morello

Junichi Okubo

Alice Y. Tseng

Taketoshi Yamamoto

Tsuneo Yasuda

HOOVER INSTITUTION PRESS
STANFORD UNIVERSITY      STANFORD, CALIFORNIA

CONTENTS

|                 |            |     |
|-----------------|------------|-----|
| Foreword        | ERIC WAKIN | vii |
| Acknowledgments |            | ix  |
| Introduction    | KAORU UEDA | 1   |

PART I: ESSAYS

|                                                                                  |    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 1   Picturing Empire                                                             | 15 |
| Nishiki-e and the Wars of Imperial Japan                                  |    |
| OLIVIA MORELLO AND MICHAEL R. AUSLIN                                             |    |
| 2   Anchors of History                                                           | 29 |
| The Long Shadow of Imperial Japanese Propaganda                                  |    |
| BARAK KUSHNER                                                                    |    |
| 3   Multinational Perspectives of Visualized Journalism on the Sino-Japanese War | 43 |
| A Comparative Study of Meiji Japan, Qing China, and Europe                       |    |
| TOSHIHIKO KISHI                                                                  |    |
| 4   Nishiki-e and War Prints                                              | 57 |
| JUNICHI OKUBO                                                                    |    |
| 5   A Visual Revolution                                                          | 65 |
| The Emperor in Popular Nishiki-e                                          |    |
| ALICE Y. TSENG                                                                   |    |
| 6   Visual Media Trends during the Russo-Japanese War Period                     | 81 |
| A Comparative Study of Meiji Japan and Czarist Russia                            |    |
| TOSHIHIKO KISHI                                                                  |    |

|                                           |     |
|-------------------------------------------|-----|
| 7   Bakudan san'yūshi              | 93  |
| The Three Heroes of Shanghai              |     |
| HANAE KURIHARA KRAMER AND SCOTT KRAMER    |     |
| 8   The Pacific War and Kamishibai | 103 |
| TSUNEO YASUDA                             |     |
| 9   Printed Wartime Kamishibai     | 117 |
| TAKETOSHI YAMAMOTO                        |     |

PART II: COLLECTION HIGHLIGHTS

|                                  |     |
|----------------------------------|-----|
| Women at War                     | 132 |
| Bushidō : Samurai Values  | 136 |
| Iconic Symbols                   | 140 |
| War Horses                       | 144 |
| Technology                       | 148 |
| International Propaganda War     | 152 |
| Further Readings                 | 158 |
| Glossary                         | 160 |
| Appendix: Geographical Locations | 162 |
| About the Contributors           | 167 |
| Index                            | 169 |