

CONTENTS

1	“Don’t bother the earth spirit [...] she is working on a story”: Indigenous Perspectives on Human-Land Relations	1
	Francesca Mussi
Part I (Auto)Ethnographic and Archaeological Stories		29
2	“The Big Tree where everything happens”: Can the Shattered Be Mended?	31
	Yvette Abrahams and Siv Øvernes
3	An Appraisal of the Aari People’s Indigenous Connections to and Conceptions of their Land (Fäč’ekə) through their Indigenous Religious Beliefs, Myths and Rituals	63
	Endalkachew Hailu Guluma and Temesgen Minwagaw Lemma
4	The Landscapes of my Ancestors: Using Archaeology to Tell the Story of Métis Connections to the Landscape	79
	Dawn Wambold

Part II	Literary Explorations	99
5	Meahcci: The Place We Live Lill Tove Fredriksen	101
6	Water, Air, Stone: Storying Elemental Kinship Kristin Lucas	119
7	“ARE THEY GETTING IT?”: Texting with Water in Leanne Betasamosake Simpson’s “Big Water” Abbey Ballard	141
8	Aloha ‘Āina: Island-Wahine Relationality in Hawaiian Mo‘olelo Emma Barnes	167
Part III	Performance and Media	191
9	Dealing with Climate Change from the Margins: Creative Expressions of Indigenous Values and Practices from the Sundarban and the Pacific A. B. M. Monirul Huq	193
10	Márkomeannu-2018/2118 at the Convergence of Fiction and Reality: Art, Performance, and Storytelling Between Pasts and Futures in a Land of Relations Erika De Vivo	223
11	Lands of Solidarity: Understanding Contemporary North American and Palestinian Indigenous Realities through Interactive Documentary Lara El Mekauí	253

12	Podcasting Indigenous Land Connections in Stories from the Land Jeff Donison	277
13	Afterword: Wisdom Still Sits in Places: Relationality, Ecology, Story David Stirrup	301
	Index	315