

Jessica Atkinson

Insights From Music Therapy Practice and Research

Other Knowing

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1	Beginning the Journey	1
	Direct Message 1	1
	Background to This Book	1
	Dialogue 1	9
	Some Tensions Emerge Between the Roles and They Discuss Their Motivations for Contributing to This Book	9
	Direct Message 2	16
	Music Therapy: Purpose, Practice and Profession	16
	Dialogue 2	28
	The Audience for the Book is Considered and the Focus is Discussed	28
	Direct Message 3	33
	Critical Realism and How Retroductive Argument Brought Structure to This Enquiry	33
	Dialogue 3	38
	The Risks of Autoethnography are Debated and Different Roles' Experiences of Care and Caring are Shared	38
	Direct Message 4	48
	An Ethic of Care as Theory and Experience	48
	Direct Message 5	54
	Integrity Demands and Acknowledging the Normative Dimension of This Enquiry	54
	Dialogue 4	63
	The Roles Argue About Living Artfully and Researcher Identifies What she Hopes to Achieve Through this Book	63

Direct Message 6	69
Issues of Methodology, Method, Epistemology and Ontology in an Improvisatory Research Journey	69
References	74
2 Meeting Other Travellers	81
Dialogue 1	81
The Roles Unite to Provide a Personal Statement in Preparation for the Poems, Stories and Vignettes	81
Personal Statement By All the Roles, Addressed to the Collaborator	83
Poems, Stories and Vignettes	87
They have their exits and their entrances	87
Chloe's Story	103
Invitation to Respond	117
Dialogue 2	119
The Roles Consider the Knowing that Comes from Arts-Based Experience, Whether Music Therapy, Research, or Other Modalities	119
References	131
3 Loosening the Threads Along the Way 1	133
Direct Message with Interruptions	133
Shaping and Experiencing an Autoethnography	133
References	156
4 Loosening the Threads Along the Way 2	159
Direct Message with Interruptions	159
Exploring the Phenomenon of Experience Before Valuing Happens	159
References	207
5 Loosening the Threads Along the Way 3	211
Direct Message with Interruptions	211
Examining Personhood, Therapeutic Experience, Evidence and What Counts, Through Aesthetic Critical Realism	211
References	255

6	Loosening the Threads Along the Way 4	259
	Direct Message with Interruptions	259
	Complexifying Evidence, Experience and What Counts with Arts-Based Research	259
	Rationale for Creating a Mobile	272
	The Relevance of Mobile Structures to Music Therapy and Music Therapy Research	273
	Transparency, Shadow, Reflection and The Ripple Effect	275
	Thoughts on My Credibility as a Fused Glass Artist and Mobile Maker!	277
	A Final Question: Do I Need To Make a Mobile? What Will The Mobile Add to My Research Process?	278
	References	302
7	Arriving Somewhere	305
	Conclusion	305
	What Kinds of Experience Occur in Music Therapy?	306
	In What Ways and Under What Circumstances do These Experiences Count as Evidence?	309
	What Can be Learnt About the Cultures of Music Therapy from the Kinds of Experience That Count as Evidence?	311
	What Would the Field of Music Therapy Need to be Like, for Those Music Therapy Experiences That do Not Currently Count as Evidence to do So?	312
	References	318
	Index	319

LIST OF FIGURES

Fig. 3.1	Early image-making—the bee (a) The bee that did not go far in the video (b and c) Sketches for the bee that did not go far (d) Experimental music therapist bee	145
Fig. 4.1	Therapist’s relationship to self	167
Fig. 4.2	Carer/care-receiver relationship after massive trauma	168
Fig. 4.3	The participant as I (as therapist) experience them	169
Fig. 4.4	Therapist’s relationship to commissioning	170
Fig. 4.5	Carer/care-receiver relationship	171
Fig. 4.6	Fundraising	172
Fig. 4.7	Multidisciplinary team (MDT) member/therapist relationship	173
Fig. 4.8	Mia and her relationship to music	174
Fig. 4.9	Theresa and her relationship to music therapy	175
Fig. 4.10	Mr B and his relationship to music, music therapy and the music therapist	176
Fig. 4.11	Supervisee/supervisor relationship	177
Fig. 4.12	Communication difficulties!?	178
Fig. 4.13	Phases of experience. From left to right, the four phases of experience-‘Event’, ‘Awareness’, ‘Knowing’, ‘Sharing’-are shown as overlapping entities	186
Fig. 6.1	Fused glass mobile pendants based on acrylic painted images. (a) Therapist’s relationship to self (b) Carer/care-receiver relationship after massive trauma; (c) The participant as I (as therapist) experience them; (d) Therapist’s relationship to commissioning; (e) Carer/care-receiver relationship;

	(f) Therapist's relationship to fundraising; (g) Multidisciplinary team member/therapist relationship; (h) Mia and her relationship to music; (i) Theresa and her relationship to music therapy; (j) Mr. B and his relationship to music, music therapy and the music therapist; (k) Supervisee/supervisor relationship; (l) Communication difficulties!?	284
Fig. 6.2	Suspended mobile	289