

Contents

- 7 Introduction
- 7 The Protection of Monuments and Historical Buildings by the State under National Socialism
- 9 Hans Güldenpfennig, Cathedral Architect in Cologne
- 10 Cologne Cathedral under National Socialism

- 16 The Pre-war Era
- 16 The Affiliation of the Cathedral Workshop to the Reichsluftschutzbund
- 17 Air-raid Protection and Fire Safety Measures
- 18 The Remilitarization of the Rhineland and Early Cathedral Protection Measures
- 19 Construction Work along the Siegfried Line and the First Art Protection Decree
- 20 The Provincial Curator is Appointed Commissioner for the Protection of Art

- 25 1939
- 25 War Breaks Out
- 26 Preparations for Protective Measures
- 27 The Protection of the Cathedral's Windows
- 29 The Protection of Immovable
Works of Art
- 36 1940
- 37 The Procurement of Material
- 37 The Removal of the Medieval Windows
- 38 The Choir Pier Statues, Choir Stalls,
Altar-pieces, and Sculptures
- 40 The Removal of the Nineteenth-century Windows
- 45 1941
- 45 Hitler's Involvement in the Protection of Art
- 46 The "Bell Campaign" of 1941-42
- 46 St. Peter's Bell
- 51 1942
- 51 The 1,000-bomber Raid
- 52 The Birth of a Legend
- 53 A New Fire-extinguishing
System for Cologne Cathedral

- 54 Art Protection Meeting in Berlin
- 55 The Removal of the Choir Stalls
- 55 The Evacuation of the Shrine of the Three Magi, the "Cathedral Picture," and the Shrine of St. Engelbert
- 56 Other Protective Measures
- 57 A Series of Setbacks for the Fire-extinguishing System

- 65 1943
- 65 The Construction of a Bunker in the North Tower
- 67 The Evacuation of the Remaining Cathedral Treasures
- 67 A New Fire-extinguishing System
- 69 The "Peter and Paul Air Raid" on June 29, 1943
- 70 The Propaganda Response
- 70 The Threat to the Shrine of the Three Magi and the Altar-piece of the City's Patron Saints
- 71 The Air Raid on November 3, 1943 and the "Cathedral Filling"

- 80 1944
- 80 The Cathedral Commission and the Protection of the St. Peter Portal
- 81 The "Cathedral Picture" and the Shrine of the Three Magi on the Move Again
- 83 The Defense of the City
- 85 The Cathedral Architect Leaves Cologne

89 1945

- 90 A New Threat to the Cathedral
Windows and Choir Stalls
- 90 The Final Air Raid on Cologne,
March 2, 1945
- 91 The Last Damage Inflicted on the Cathedral
- 92 The Continuing Threat to the Cathedral
Despite the End of Hostilities
- 93 The Legend that the Cathedral was Intentionally Spared
- 95 The Start of Reconstruction and Outlook
- 109 References, Sources, and Literature
- 111 Picture Credits