

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

LIST OF WORKS CITED

INTRODUCTION	1
CHAPTER ONE ROMANTIC WORLD EXPERIENCE	10
SOCIAL BACKGROUND	10
PHILOSOPHY	19
FRINGE SCIENCES	30
OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS	42
CHAPTER TWO THE STRUCTURE OF ROMANTIC NARRATIVE	44
NARRATIVE PERSPECTIVE	45
The Importance of Telling	45
The Importance of Seeing	46
The Subjectivity of Perspective	48
The Relativity of Perspective	49
The Fragmentation of Individual Perspective	57
NARRATIVE FORM	60
THE ROMANTIC NARRATOR	64
THE FIRST-PERSON NARRATOR	64
Narrative Perspective	64
Narrative Form	76
THE THIRD-PERSON NARRATOR	78
Narrative Perspective:	79
The Storyteller Narrator	80
The Reproduction of Characters' Perceptions	95
Limitation to Characters' Perceptions	103
The Reproduction of Characters' Information	110
Limitation to Characters' Information	115
Limited Access to the Characters' Inner World	120
The Narrator as Observer	121
Limitation of Movement in the Narrator	130
Limitation of the Narrator to Sources	131
Loss of Status by the Narrator	132
Narrative Form	136
THE FIRST- AND THIRD-PERSON NARRATOR COMPARED	145
The Storyteller/Character Narrator	148
The Character/Storyteller Narrator	158
The Fictional Level of the Narrator	159

REINTERPRETATION OF THE NARRATOR'S ROLE	162
REINTERPRETATION OF THE READER'S ROLE	165
The Reader as Character	165
The Reader as Learner	171
DISORIENTATION OF THE READER	182
Inadequate Perspective	182
Wrong Perspective	185
Distorted Perspective	188
Distortion of Perspective by Outside Forces	196
Deliberate Distortion of Perspective by Outside Forces	198
REINTERPRETATION OF THE READER'S ROLE (2)	202
DISORIENTATION OF THE READER (2)	208
Doubtful Perspective	208
Deliberate Distortion of the Reader's Perspective by the Narrator	222
CHAPTER THREE ROMANTIC AESTHETIC THEORY	225
SELF AND WORLD IN ROMANTIC ART	225
The Rejection of Mimesis	225
Self-Presentation	228
Romantic Art	234
THE FRAGMENTATION OF THE NARRATIVE FORM	239
The Subject as the Principle of the Narrative Form	239
The Rights of the Work	244
THE IMPORTANCE OF FORM	246
THE SELF-PRESENTATION OF THE NARRATIVE	253
REINTERPRETATION OF THE READER'S AESTHETIC ROLE	261
CONCLUSION	266
FOOTNOTES	274
BIBLIOGRAPHY	344