

The Study Skills Handbook

Sixth Edition

Stella Cottrell

BLOOMSBURY ACADEMIC
LONDON • NEW YORK • OXFORD • NEW DELHI • SYDNEY

Contents

Foreword	viii
Acknowledgements	ix

Introducing The Study Skills Handbook 1

Is this book for you? 1; How to use The Study Skills Handbook, 2; Icons used in the book, 2; Where to begin, 3; Seven approaches to learning, 4–5; A new beginning ..., 6; Companion site for The Study Skills Handbook, 6.

A. Self-efficacy: managing your success as a student 7

1 Success as a student: take charge of your success 9

Introduction, 9; Make the experience work for you, 10; Clarity of purpose: your vision of success, 11; Success as a student: where am I now? 12–13; Success as a student: what lecturers say, 14; What to expect in Higher Education: teaching, 15; How is higher-level study different? 16; Understanding higher-level study, 17; Independent study: benefits, challenges, risks, 18; What is expected from you? 19; What kind of study skills do you need? 20; Self-efficacy skills: managing yourself for study, 21; Academic skills, 22; People skills and task-management skills, 23; Developing your skills, 24; Study skills: priorities (stages 1 and 2), 25–6; Study skills action plan, 27; Review, 28.

2 Gaining the most from your course: Engage. Enjoy. Excel. 29

Introduction, 29; Ten golden rules, 30; Effective use of tutorials/supervision, 31; Be well informed: find out ..., 32–3; Engage with technology-enhanced learning, 34; Gain from scheduled learning: purpose and value, 35; 'Flip your learning': preparing in advance, 36; Engaging in taught sessions, 37; Practicals, studio and lab work, 38; Distance and block learning, 39; Self-evaluation: Making good use of taught sessions, 40; Engage fully with your course outside class time, 41; Use recorded lectures effectively, 42; Checklist: Managing independent and online study, 43; Making sense of difficult material, 44–5; Make course material your own, 46; Get under the skin of your subject disciplines, 47; Review, 48.

3 Employability and preparing for your future 49

Introduction, 49; Planning towards your future, 50; Your personal development so far, 51; Developing work and career readiness, 52–3; Recognizing your skills and qualities, 54; Your personal skills profile, 55; Skills audit: current skills and qualities, 56; Preparing for work with employers, 57; Articulate your abilities to employers, 58; Translate academic skills into employment skills, 59; Building your CV while a student, 60; Recording your achievements, 61; Taking further qualifications and training, 62; Enterprise and self-employment, 63; Review, 64.

4 Successful study: Boost your brain; build study stamina; personalize study strategy 65

Introduction, 65; Am I intelligent enough? 66; What is 'learning'? 67; Six conditions for learning, 68–9; 'My brain won't work!': boost your brain power, 70–1; Build your study stamina and improve concentration, 72–3; Optimal learning, 74–5; What kind of learner am I? Learning SHAPES, 76–7; Identify your personal learning formula, 78–9; Your learning preferences, 80; Develop your personal learning strategy, 81; Personalize learning – using technologies, 82–4; Study strategy – individual or social? 85; Review, 86.

5 The C-R-E-A-M strategy for learning 87

Introduction, 87; Finding your creative streak, 88; Be a professor – and other ideas, 89; Creative learning, 90; Creative problem-solving, 91–5; Reflective learning, 96; How well am I doing? 97; Reflective learning journals, 98; Effective rather than 'virtuous' study, 99–100; Checklist: effective study: be well organized for study, 101; Effective online learning, 102–3; Use technologies effectively, 104; Effective management of grades and personal performance, 105; Combining work and study effectively, 106; Effective management of work-based projects, 107; Effective management of study leave, 108; Active learning, 109; Active learning strategies, 110; Motivation, 111; Strategies for staying motivated, 112–3; Use your vision and goals to guide study strategy, 114–15; Achieving my goals, 116; Formulate a realistic, motivating action plan, 117; Motivation: managing the challenge, 118; Integrating C-R-E-A-M strategies into study, 119; Review, 120.

6 Time management as a student 121

Introduction, 121; How well do I manage my time now? 122; Why time management matters, 123; Ten steps to effective time management, 124–5; How much study time is required? 126; Map and monitor your use of study time, 127; Expected average weekly study requirements, 128; What students say, 129; Monitor use of independent study time, 130; Time circles: Where does all my time go? 131–3; Set your priorities, 134; Effective planning and diary-keeping, 135; Make your planner work for you, 136; Make great checklists and 'To do' lists, 137; Assignments: plan backwards from deadlines, 138; Use study blocks and breaks effectively, 139; Apply varied time management techniques, 140; Apply time management techniques: online study, 141; Ten time-saving strategies, 142; Manage procrastination and distraction, 143; Getting down to study, 144; Staying on task, 145; Identifying and managing distractions, 146; Activate your time management strategies, 147; Review, 148.

7 Managing well-being and stress 149

Introduction, 149; Acknowledging your worries and anxieties, 150; Manage anxiety, 151; Staying the course: commit to completing, 152; Achieving key 'milestones', 153; Surviving the first day and first week, 154; Managing the first few weeks, 155; Nurture your well-being, 156; Digital you: safety, security and well-being, 157; How do other students manage? 158–9; Resilience as a student, 160–1; Dealing with stress, 162; Strategies for managing stress and well-being, 163–5; Stay social to boost well-being and study, 166; Enjoy some calm time, 167; Review, 168.

B. Academic, people and task-management skills 169

8 Working with others: collaborative and social study 171

Introduction, 171; Studying collaboratively, 172; Collaborative working: what students say, 173; Studying with other people, 174; Collaborative study online, 175; Digital social learning, 176–7; Netiquette for online study and communication, 178; Making a group work, 179–80; Being effective in group discussion, 181; Speaking and listening skills, 182; Speaking up, 183; Dealing with difficult moments in the group, 184; Giving and receiving feedback and criticism, 185; Being fair to everyone in the group, 186; Study groups, 187; Sharing work without cheating, 188; Communicating as a group, 189; How well do I contribute to seminars and groups? 190; Group projects, 191; Managing group projects, 192; Making presentations and giving talks, 193; Preparing your talk, 194; Be aware of your audience, 195; Practising and evaluating your presentation, 196; Assessing whether your presentation is ready, 197; Giving your talk, 198; How effective am I at talks and presentations? 199; Working with others: Review, 200.

9 Developing cultural competence: Learning in diverse and international contexts 201

Introduction, 201; Cultural competence: What can I do? 202; Self-evaluation: cultural competence, 203; Challenges and opportunities for study, work, life, 204; Personal benefits of intercultural awareness, 205; Making, and not making, cultural assumptions, 206; Dimensions of difference – and similarity, 207; Appreciating different cultures and languages, 208; Being part of a welcoming, inclusive group, 209; How different are the ways we do things? 210; How different are our experiences of study? 211; Effective intercultural groupwork, 212; Capture the intercultural learning, 213; Different styles of communicating, 214; Case studies, 215; Review, 216.

10 Effective reading and note-making 217

Introduction, 217; Identifying and selecting relevant material when reading, 218; Am I a smart reader? 219–21; Increase your understanding of what you read, 222; Is it worth re-reading material you don't understand? 223; Develop your expert 'reader voice', 224; Annotating texts when reading, 225; Example of an annotated text, 226; Good annotating, 227; Increasing your reading speed, 228; Strategies for increasing your reading speed, 229; Making notes when reading books, 230; Summary notes: become expert at synopsis, 231; Note-making for online lectures and study, 232–3; Make effective notes in taught sessions, 234; Note-making styles, 235; Pattern notes or 'networks': an example, 236; Short-cuts in note-making, 237; Making notes with confidence, 238; Self-evaluation: how useful are your notes? 239; Review, 240.

11 Researching and managing information for study 241

Introduction, 241; Managing information for academic study, 242–3; Defining your research task, 244; Making the most of the library, 245; Finding information: getting started, 246; Conducting effective online searches for study, 247; Using AI tools and 'chatbots', 248–9; Using material of suitable quality and content, 250–1; Whittling down information, 252; Reading, recording and using information, 253; Tools for storing, retrieving and sharing information, 254; Understanding plagiarism, 255; Recognizing plagiarism and copying, 256; Making citations and references, 257; Citing your sources: in-text citations, 258; Writing out your references, 259; Review, 260.

12 Critical and analytical thinking 261

Introduction, 261; What characterizes critical thinking? 262; Develop a detective-like mind, 263; Critical questioning, 264; Critical thinking when reading, 265–71; Questioning numbers and statistics, 272–3; Critical analytical thinking, 274; Critical thinking when writing, 275; Critical analytical writing vs. descriptive writing, 276; Identifying critical and descriptive writing, 277–8; Critical thinking when listening, 279; Review, 280.

13 Writing at university level 281

Introduction, 281; How good am I at managing writing tasks? 282; Getting started on a written assignment, 283; Developing your own writing process, 284; Don't get overwhelmed: draw on your existing expertise, 285; Overcoming writer's block, 286; Tricks for getting started, 287; Students' solutions to writing blocks, 288; Common features of all academic writing, 289; A seven-step procedure for writing assignments, 290–1; Analyse the question, 292; Academic keywords used in assignment titles, 293; Structuring your writing, 294; Organizing information: planning your writing, 295; Planning in stages, 296; Concept pyramids organize ideas, 297; Concept pyramid example, 298; Use pyramids to plan assignments, 299; Drafting and redrafting your writing, 300; Writing strong paragraphs, 301; Planning your paragraphs, 302; Checking your paragraphs, 303; Linking ideas together, 304; Editing and proofreading your drafts, 305; Presenting your writing assignments, 306; Presenting work to meet course requirements, 307; Review, 308.

14 Developing your academic writing 309

Introduction, 309; Stylistic conventions for academic writing, 310–11; Being precise, 312; Writing for different subjects, 313; 'Scientific' approaches, 314; Alternatives to the scientific model, 315; Polar opposites in academic approaches, 316; Different writing styles, 317; Descriptive writing style, 318; Argumentative style, 319; Evaluative/comparative style, 320; Reflective writing, 321–2; Summative or synoptic writing, 323–4; What gets good grades? 325; Using feedback from tutors, 326; Evaluate written assignments for yourself, 327; Review, 328.

15 Writing essays 329

Introduction, 329; What is an essay? 330; Devising your own essay title, 331; Structuring your essay, 332; Planning your essay spatially, 333; Using concept pyramids to organize material, 334; Frameworks to structure thinking and writing, 335; Framework to plan 'for or against' essays, 336; Framework for 'to what extent ...' essays, 337; Frameworks for 'compare and contrast' essays, 338; Reflective essays, 339–40; What is an essay like? Essays 1 and 2, 341–6; Critical comparison of two essays: 347–53; Review, 354.

16 Managing larger assignments: Research projects, reports, case studies and dissertations 355

Introduction, 355; Understanding and defining the task, 356–7; Dissertations and final year research projects, 358; Clarifying your process, 359–60; Projects and dissertations: managing the process, 361; Developing your research proposal, 362; Choosing a topic, 363; Specifying your title and thesis statement, 364; Formulating your hypothesis, 365; Conducting a literature review, 366; Research design and methods, 367; Designing questionnaires, 368–9; Checklist for evaluating your questionnaire, 370; Interview techniques, 371; Presenting and analysing the data, 372; Characteristics of reports, 373; Reports and dissertations: structure and content, 374; Writing the report, 375–8; Project or dissertation report: checklist, 379; Case studies, 380–1; Review, 382.

17 Devising your revision and exam strategy 383

Introduction, 383; Planning and preparing your exams strategy, 384; Revising for exams, 385; Tactics to use in your exam prep strategy, 386–7; Revision pitfalls – and how to avoid them, 388–9; Revision and exam preparation, 390; Revision: seven-point Action Plan, 391; Countdown towards the exams, 392; Exam details, 393; In the exam, 394; Top tips for different kinds of exams, 395; Doing well in exams, 396; Exam day strategy: checklist, 397; Review, 398.

18 Memory: Boost coursework, revision and exam performance 399

Introduction, 399; Build memory for course material, 400; Check your memory style, 401; Memorization techniques, 402; Help your brain to remember, 403; Work with the memory process, 404; Use multiple encoding to reinforce memory, 405–7; Work with the memory process, 408; Memory thrives on organization, 409; Pyramids, pattern notes and pictures, 410; ‘Chunking’ information, 411; Review, 412.

Appendix 1: Ten different views of intelligence	413
Appendix 2: Further resources	417
Answers to activities.	419
References and bibliography	424
Index	432
Notes	443